GRAND KNIGHT'S MESSAGE

Brother Knights,

As you read this we just finished a great Pro-Life breakfast. And a nice way to start off the New Year. March and April bring St. Patrick's Day parade, fish fry and men's retreat. The dates for these events will be discussed at upcoming officers and council meetings. Your participation speaks well of what we Knights are Charity, Unity, Fraternity, And Patriotism. May God Bless You and keep your families healthy. Be good to yourself and one another.

Let the holy spirit be your guide.

Vivat Jesus,
Rick Cervantes

CONGRATULATIONS BROTHERS AND HIGH-FIVES ALL AROUND!

The 42nd Annual KoC Sir Knight Larry Quane Pro-Life Pancake Breakfast is now a part of our memories & in our archives, & was hugely successful thanks to so many Brother Knights, & other special volunteers. As of this writing we've raised close to $5,000 & expect that number to go up in the days ahead as more donations filter in. We will be able to give each of the four Pro-Life Organizations we support better than $1,000! Our raffle sale brought in nearly $400 & the winner donated her half back to us. We thank her for her generosity.

This was my first pass as the leader of the band. It was a tremendous privilege to set the wheels in motion & watch the Brotherhood spring into action.

First thanks go to Monsignor Merdian, Father Wilson, Deacon Russ Swim, Nancy from Farrell Hall, Katherine from the office, & the entire congregation at St. Pius X, especially those who enjoyed the breakfast & supported the cause, for the use of the hall, prayers, donations of supplies, & encouragement.

Many, many Brother Knights contributed time, talent, & resources, among them, Rick Cervantes, Dick Hunt, Dave Sullivan, Dean & Sheryl Lackey, Lou Granato, Stanley Torres, Gene Paprocki, Chuck Gibbs, Dave Yordy, Kevin Houser, Lance Johnson, John Doak, Andy Olson, Jim Wieland, Jack & Luann Swan, Greg Schneider, Brendan Swim, & John Rhodts. . . I pray I've not forgotten anyone.

A special thanks to Andy Olson who recruited some wonderful young people to help in the dining room: Mariana Sandoval, Neal & Andrew Sivula, Ruth & Tina Olson, Payton Pirog, Payton Boemecke, Alivia Valenzuela, Audrey Long, & Ayden Braud.

We are also extremely grateful to many Knights at home & other donors who supported the mission financially.

And of course, we continue to be eternally grateful to Brother Knight Louie Alongi & other Knights who, many years ago, had a vision to fight for Life & have never wavered in their commitment.

Nearly fifty years after the catastrophic ruling in our country giving women the legal right to destroy the babies in their wombs, we are on the threshold of seeing the federal nightmare come to an end, God willing. Should that happen, & we pray that it will, we will still need to be a visible sign of strength for the cause of Life as some states look for ways to perpetuate the madness of legal abortion. May God bless our continued efforts.

Thank you, one & all!

Yours, in service to Christ & His Church,
Jerry Schroeder

UNITYPOINT HEALTH® – TRINITY CELEBRATES

2021 REHABILITANT OF THE YEAR

Hi everyone, The rehab staff at Trinity named Russ the Rehabilitant of the Year 2021! Below is the video and press release that the hospital is sending to the media outlets in the area. All of your prayers and support played a huge part in helping Russ to recover and return to serving as a chaplain so we wanted all of you to get a chance to see the video and press release!! Russ was very overwhelmed and humbled that he was chosen for such an award!!

Many thanks!!! Pam Swim

(ROCK ISLAND, ILL.) – UnityPoint Health® – Trinity Rehabilitation Services is celebrating its 2021 Rehabilitant of the Year. Deacon Russ Swim is this year's recipient of this award which honors patients who have shown incredible progress and recovery after a life-changing medical event.

Deacon Swim, a chaplain with UnityPoint Health – Trinity, suffered a stroke while providing faith services to patients at Trinity Rock Island hospital. Nurses and medical teams near him at the time jumped into action and provided immediate life-saving care. The stroke left Deacon Swim with mobility issues and difficulty with speech. After his time on the medical floor in the hospital, Deacon Swim began his inpatient rehabilitation with the team at Trinity and has made significant strides on his road to recovery. Deacon Swim left a lasting impression on his care team and others who witnessed his efforts. UnityPoint Health – Trinity is proud to award Deacon Swim with the 2021 Rehabilitant of the Year to recognize his hard work, determination and perseverance.

“Deacon Russ Swim is an inspiration to others who may be struggling through their own recovery. Deacon Swim used his positive attitude to make his way through the toughest portions of his recovery plan. We are proud to recognize him as this year's award recipient,” says Ryan Heuer, manager of Trinity's inpatient therapy program.

“I learned a lot from Deacon Swim as we worked through his care plan after his stroke,” says Anthony H. Kwan, MD, Deacon Swim's physiatrist. “He approached each day with determination and optimism, even when he was struggling. He's an inspiration and I'm proud of him and all my patients who trust Trinity with their rehabilitation care.”

If you'd like to learn more about UnityPoint Health – Trinity Rehabilitation Services, visit unitypoint.org, or call (309) 779-3176 for inpatient services – or (309) 581-7640 for questions about outpatient therapy services.

DEACON'S QUESTION BOX

What does the word agape mean and what is its origin?

Let me start by thanking those who have responded to the request I made at the last council meeting for questions for this column. I find it more rewarding to address specific questions you have concerning the faith and the history of the Church instead of trying to anticipate what those questions might be.

The first question submitted after the last council meeting was: what does the word agape mean and what is its origin? Please keep the questions coming I have them stored in a safe place and I will address them in the order I have received them unless some topics come up that demand immediate attention. After which I will take up the list of questions where I left off.

The ancient Greek philosophers spent much effort trying to understand the nature of human love. They ultimately defined eight types of love. It would take a college semester to discuss them in detail. For our purposes the church has traditionally defined two types of love. There have been countless articles, retreats, homilies, and parish missions on this over the last 40 or so years. For this discussion the relevant point is that the church traditionally distinguishes between natural love and supernatural love. Agape is the term given to supernatural love which is the love of God and the selfless love of neighbor. Put another way natural love expects some kind of response. It anticipates something in return or at least an emotional response that benefits me. According to Saint Thomas Aquinas supernatural love is a love that wills the good of another. So another way of considering agape is that it is divine love because that is how we define God's love for us. God's love is for the sake of mankind and not for the sake of God himself. The best definition of agape was written by Saint Paul and can be found in his first letter to the Corinthians chapter 13. This is a very well-known passage that is often used at weddings because the couple is hoping they either already have or can develop this kind of love for each other.

We do find in the New Testament references to an Agape Feast or love feast (see First Corinthians Chapter 11). At first these were often joined with the Eucharistic liturgy but in time were separated from the Mass because of the disorder and scandal they provoked. Legislation against the Agape Feast was passed by the Council of Carthage (in 397), and by the eighth century the practice had disappeared.

Feel free to drop me a question for this column. Questions may be dropped off on the head table at a Council Meeting or sent via email to Deacon Russ Swim, Assistant Chaplain, rpswim@mchsi.com, phone 786-3097.

PRO-LIFE MESSAGE (PART TWO)

Planned Parenthood (Continued from last month)

9. Who was Margaret Sanger?

In 1879, a woman named Margret Sanger was born to a large and impoverished family in New York. She lost her mother at an early age and was raised by her atheist father. Though her mother died of tuberculosis, Sanger blamed her death on the fact that she had 11 children. This prompted her to grow up with a disdain for large families—and the desire to diminish poverty by preventing certain types of people from having babies. Sanger eventually went to nursing school but never finished. Instead, she began to work with impoverished women in New York City. About this time, she joined the Women's Committee of the New York Socialist Party and began to advocate—in both her speech and writing—for sex education and birth control, even starting her own journal to reach as many people as she could with her ideas.

In articles such as “The Eugenic Value of Birth Control Propaganda” and “Birth Control and Racial Betterment,” Sanger explained her reasoning's for why she believed women “need” birth control. In “Birth Control and Racial Betterment,” Sanger writes: “We who advocate birth control...lay all our emphasis upon stopping not only the reproduction of the unfit but upon stopping all reproduction when there is not economic means of providing proper care for those who are born in health.” Her articles and speeches are riddled with beliefs such as this and prove that she considered there to be a close link between birth control and eugenics. Eugenics espouses the belief that a certain group of people has the right to determine who should live, who should reproduce, and who should die. Sound familiar? Sanger believed that the poor, the disabled, the mentally challenged, and others like them were unfit and should not procreate.

“The first step would be to control the intake and output on morons, mental defectives, epileptics,” she wrote in a document called My Way to Peace. “The second step would be to take an inventory of the second group, such as illiterates, paupers, unemployables, criminals, prostitutes, dope-fiends; classify them in special departments under government medical protection and segregate them on farms and open spaces.” Sanger's work with the poor intensified, and in 1921 she established the American Birth Control League, which eventually took the name Planned Parenthood.

10. Does Planned Parenthood really target minorities?

It does! Planned Parenthood's racist roots continue to entangle the entire organization. Beginning with Margaret Sanger's push of birth control on the poor and continuing today, Planned Parenthood purposely targets African Americans and Hispanics. Indeed, 2010 Census Bureau data found that “79% of Planned Parenthood abortion facilities are located near either an African American or a Hispanic neighborhood and 45% are placed so that they are within walking distance of both types of minority neighborhoods.” The Life Issues Institute followed that data up with more recent statistics, stating: “An updated analysis in 2015 found that the new set of 173 Planned Parenthood surgical abortion facilities operating in 2014 continue their practice of heavily targeting minority neighborhoods for abortion, with 78% within walking distance of these communities. "Black Dignity" concurs, makes this bold statement: "We are being targeted. Our people are dying.... Since 1973, abortion has reduced the black population by over 25 percent. Twice as many African-Americans have died from abortion than have died from AIDS, accidents, violent crimes, cancer, and heart disease combined." In New York City it is a fact that more black babies have died from abortion than are born (actually 65%). Last year, this racism was addressed at PP of Greater New York, which parted ways with one of its administrators and removed Sanger's name from its building. However, this small step does not change the clientele or the organization's mission.

The founder and chief creative officer of The Radiance Foundation, teaches that "abortion is the number one killer of black lives, outnumbering the CDC's reported top 15 leading causes of deaths among blacks in 2014—combined.... This has been by historical design. It's called eugenics—the racist and elitist pseudoscience that birthed Planned Parenthood." Bomberger further states: Sanger's Planned Parenthood and Birth Control Review boards were filled with eugenicists who proudly paraded their vile racism and elitism. One of those was Lothrop Stoddard, a eugenicist, klansman, Planned Parenthood Board member and a prolific writer whose words inspired the NAZIS. His 1921 book The Rising Tide of Color Against White World Supremacy...was a blueprint for racial hygiene theory employed with grotesque and incomprehensible effect during the Holocaust. A quick Internet search will reveal numerous examples of Planned Parenthood's racism. From PP accepting money from a donor who wanted her money to only go to killing black babies, to coercing Hispanics to undergo sterilization procedures, the long and sordid history of racism cannot be denied. And it reaches into other countries as well.

11. Does Planned Parenthood work in countries outside the US?

Planned Parenthood doesn't operate any of its own health centers outside the United States, but it partners with other organizations to raise funds for family planning services and programs. According to PP website, Planned Parenthood Global, the international arm of Planned Parenthood Federation of America, has worked overseas for 50 years to break down barriers to health care and champion the brave people putting their safety on the line each day for reproductive freedom. In partnership with more than 70 organizations across Africa and Latin America, we advance the health and rights of all people, working tirelessly to combat inequities in historically marginalized and under-resourced communities. We don't operate Planned Parenthood health centers outside the United States. Instead we back brave people, policies, programs, and movements — empowering local partners and allies with resources as they provide critical information, services and advocacy in restrictive environments.

Planned Parenthood Global helps its partners provide contraception. It increases access to "safe" abortion care and advocates for laws promoting women's "health"—meaning it advocates for laws to make abortion legal in countries where it's still illegal. In addition, it helps provide "tens of thousands" of people with "sex education"—a strategy PP uses here in the US to change the way people think about sex.

12. What kind of sex education does Planned Parenthood teach?

PP goes into schools and promotes its own brand of sex education, which draws from SIECUS standards and indoctrinates children from kindergarten on up. SIECUS (the Sexuality Information and Education Council of the United States) was founded in 1964 by a medical director at Planned Parenthood. Today, the name has changed to SIECUS: Sex Ed for Social Change. As SIECUS' site asserts, "Sex education has the power to spark large-scale social change." And spark social change it has—a change to the detriment of society.

If our school systems adopt the newest SIECUS guidelines recommended by State governments like Illinois, we will see that they recommend that all ages—children from K-12—interact with "all genders" with respect. In other words, kids as young as five are now being taught that there are more than two genders. For kids aged 12-15, the standards teach that people's "understanding of their gender identity" might change throughout his or her lifetime. The list of what certain ages should know goes on and on. The indoctrination goes on and on. The brainwashing goes on and on. As its name states, it is sex ed for social change. And woe to anyone who wants to teach that, barring a chromosomal abnormality, people are either male or female. And lest you think that this brand of sex ed isn't ubiquitous: "Planned Parenthood is the nation's largest provider of sex education, reaching 1.2 million people a year.... Planned Parenthood education staffs reach 1.5 million individuals each year, and 64% of those individuals are middle school and high school aged youth."

Whether you live in California, Illinois, Hawaii, or any number of states that have adopted SIECUS standards or that have Planned Parenthood in the classroom, beware. If your children do not hear the truth about the beauty of sexuality from you, they will only know what they are taught in school—or on PP's website. Planned Parenthood wants teens to focus on sexuality rather than on morality. It wants them to do what "feels good" rather than what is good for their psychological or spiritual health. A perfect example of this can be found in the section of PP's website entitled Abstinence-only-until-marriage: "We have to fight against abstinence-only-until-marriage/SRA programs and advocate for sex education laws and funding that support the full range of sex education topics that young people need." We must understand—and teach our children—that our sexuality is simply a part of us; it is not all of who we are. It's not what defines us as individuals. We are so much more than sexual beings.

The Catholic Church teaches that we must wait until we are married to engage in sexual intercourse and that sexual intercourse has both unitive and procreative ends, but it does not teach that sexuality is bad or something we should be ashamed of. Quite the contrary. Sex is beautiful and wonderful. In fact, its inherent beauty is why we should not share it with just anyone. Sex is a gift, and we must not abuse this gift or give this gift to just any random person. Think about it this way: Would you arbitrarily walk up to a person at a bar and give him a piece of expensive jewelry? No, you would not. So why would you give him something even more valuable—yourself? Though society likes to teach differently, human sexuality is a gift we must all treasure and nurture. This is what our children should understand about sexuality, but Planned Parenthood teaches the opposite. It even espouses nonsense like this: “Sex means different things to different people, so virginity can mean different things, too.” Is this the organization you want teaching your kids about sexuality?

Every person should have access to quality healthcare, but the kind of care that Planned Parenthood provides is not the kind of care that prioritizes the emotional, physical, and spiritual well-being of its clients. Time and time again, we see that Planned Parenthood cares about just one thing: money. An organization that profits from dead babies and broken people has no place in our society!

PRAYER FOR THE CANONIZATION OF FATHER MICHAEL J. MCGIVENEY

God, our Father, protector of the poor and defender of the widow and orphan, you called your priest, Father Michael J. McGivney, to be an apostle of Christian family life and to lead the young to the generous service of their neighbor. Through the example of his life and virtue may we follow your Son, Jesus Christ, more closely, fulfilling his commandment of charity and building up his Body which is the Church.

Let the inspiration of your servant prompt us to greater confidence in your love so that we may continue his work of caring for the needy and the outcast. We humbly ask that you glorify your venerable servant Father Michael J. McGivney on earth according to the design of your holy will. Through his intercession, grant the favor I now present (here make your request). Through Christ our Lord. Amen.
