GRAND KNIGHT'S MESSAGE

Brother Knights,

March has been a busy time for our council, first St. Patrick's Day mass, the Solemnity of St. Joseph weekend as the honor guard led the procession with the icon of St. Joseph and Jesus. The delta membership drive the same weekend where the District Deputy and myself spoke about joining the Knights and following St. Joseph as a model. And of course, the Fish Fry this last Friday WOW what a turnout! All three of these events are the efforts of this council's members and the Honor Guard.

I also want to welcome two new members Cameron Britton and Tony Granato. These young Catholic Knights are future leaders in our community and our Church. If you have a son, our grandson, nephew, cousin let them know about the Knights as we continue to grow as a council.

This coming April 2 join Catholic men for a Men's mini-retreat in McCarthy Hall information is posted in Church, the bulletin and this abstract. Hope to see you all there.

May God watch over you and your families

Vivat Jesus,

Rick Cervantes

YOU ARE INVITED SATURDAY, APRIL 2ND
MCCARTHY HALL, ST. PIUS, ROCK ISLAND
Men's Retreat

Our council will be having a men's mini-retreat led by local Catholic speaker Devin Schadt. All men are welcome; no need to be a Knight or Catholic. Mass is at 7 AM followed by a social reception with drinks and food. Devin will present from 9 to noon with breaks.

Witness or Become a 3rd Degree Knight

Following the retreat at 12:30 pm, our council will also be having a Degree. The Knights no longer have a 1st and 2nd degree, so new members will be 3rd degree. The Degree lasts about 35 minutes.

Anyone is welcome to witness the degree, men, women, & children; come learn more about the Knights. No need to RSVP, just join us in McCarthy Hall at St. Pius.

Are you a practical Catholic man interested in joining? Please feel free to contact an officer listed on the first page for more information.

DEACON'S QUESTION BOX

Why doesn't everyone use the bells during mass?

Why do some parishes ring the bell three times for the host and wine and some do not? Apparently, this is not a requirement but an option. And what is it called?

The bells that ring three times at the elevation of the body and blood of Christ during Eucharistic prayer are called the Sanctus bells. The use of bells in this fashion during the Holy Mass dates at least as far back as the 7th century when they were used to call the faithful into the Church to celebrate Mass and to alert those attending Mass that a supernatural event was taking place at the altar. In some places instead of small bells like we use today the outside tower bells were rung. The practice of using the tower bells in this manner is still followed at St. Peter's in the Vatican and in some historic churches and cathedrals. The bells serve the practical purpose of focusing everyone's attention on the altar and the mystery taking place there and the purpose of creating a joyful noise to the Lord as described in Psalm 98:4: "Make a joyful noise to the Lord, all the earth; break forth into joyous song and sing praises!"

One significant change introduced with the Mass of Pope Paul VI promulgated in the Missal of 1970 is the introduction of optionality in various parts of the Mass. The previous Missal of 1570 promulgated by Pope Pius V after the council of Trent did not allow for much flexibility. This Missal was last changed in 1962 and we should refer to it as the Missal of 1962 or the Mass of 1962. It was very rigid and strict. So much so that I remember during the 1970's when the popularity of the Mass of 1962 was growing and the restrictions on its use were beginning to be relaxed at least one Bishop here in the Midwest would not allow his priests to use the Missal of 1962 without adequate training, preparation, and certification. The Missal of 1970 does not have nearly that level of strictness to it. For example on this question about the use of bells the instructions for the mass reads as follows, "A little before the Consecration, if appropriate, a minister rings a small bell as a signal to the faithful. The minister also rings the small bell at each elevation by the Priest, according to local custom". That leaves the question about whether to use the Sanctus Bell to the tradition of the local church.

Especially with the recent news out of the Diocese of Phoenix about the priest who used the wrong word at Baptism. I do not want to leave the impression that the celebrant of the Sacrament has a free hand in how the liturgy is done. The instructions and text in the liturgical books are detailed in telling us what we do and what words we say. The Second Vatican Council has established that no one even if he is a Priest, Bishop, Cardinal, or Deacon, may add, remove, or change anything in the liturgy on his own authority.

Feel free to drop me a question for this column. Questions may be dropped off on the head table at a Council Meeting or sent via email to Deacon Russ Swim, Assistant Chaplain, rpswim@mchsi.com, phone 786-3097.

FISH FRY THANK YOUS

God bless the volunteers. I have a million Thank Yous to make. Dave Sullivan ran the bar, days before he went with me to pick up the food at Performance. Our Kitchen staff indoors Shelly Johnson, Cindy Johnson and Lou Donato hustled fish, tater tots, mac and cheese and coleslaw with gusto to the servers. Our fried fish cooks made it through in spite of the poor weather and wind, Kevin, Dick and Stanley, Thanks. We learned a few things that evening. The servers, Ben Houtekier, Greg Schneider, Andy Olson and Lindsay Britton really stayed with it until all were served. Great job guys. How about Karen and Karen the dessert whisperers.

With a little student help they did a magnificent job of serving up the treats. Thanks to Chuck Gibbs and Jim Wieland and John Doak for taking in the money. I guess the half pot winner Jay Fleck was treated to $192.00.

How about our troubadours John and Jerry, they played the whole evening, that was great, I noticed guitars, mandolin, banjo, harmonica and more.

Special thanks to Rick Cervantes for doing some detail stuff and support. He kept me informed and had many suggestions. We had a number of youngsters who pitched in and helped. Liam Houtekier, Elliott Houtekier and Theresa Hoffman as well as those getting service hours. I have to thank the strong arm of Louie Alongi for making sure the trash got out to the dumpster. Thanks to the St Vincent de Paul Food Pantry for providing a number of desserts and thanks to the volunteer bakers that made brownies, pies, cakes, cookies and other stuff. Thanks to Deacon Swims family, Pam baked and Brenden helped where needed. I need to give a shout out to Deacon Swim for getting those attending the Stations of the Cross and getting them hungry for a great dinner.

Now for some figures, I was targeting 300 dinners, we served in excess of 310 dinners. That was over double what we normally do on one night of the fish fry. We had $2,700.00 money in and approximately $800.00 out in expense (still working on the actual accounting). I would call the whole evening a success. Many of our patrons had nice things to say and no real complaints. Shelly and I are working on some actual ideas and suggestions to make the whole thing run even better. Sadly we are losing Stanley, He will be returning to the Philippines. I would be remiss if I didn't say thanks to Msgr. Merdian who green lighted the event and said a prayer over the event and the kitchen.

Rick, Ben, Andy and I stayed to 9:30 pm cleaning up and washing utensils and pans. Andy even vacuumed the floor, I wonder if Mindy knows he can do that? Also, I need to thank Nancy Young of the Jordan cooking staff for help with the food orders, cooking equipment and refrigeration and patience with the amateur Knights cooking and serving crew.

If I missed anyone then shame on me, I can't thank you all enough. Chairperson Lance Johnson

BIRDIES FOR CHARITY

Worthies All, It's that time again when the spring weather brings much needed rain and sunshine to the golf courses in the Midwest. The John Deere Classic, Birdies for Charity campaign has begun and with the tournament dates moved to June 30-July 3, we have just 113 days of this writing until the tournament begins. Soon I will be mailing out 2022 Birdie Pledge forms which are due to the BFC office no later than June 10th 2022. Please keep in mind that 100% of all donations come directly back to the Allouez council along with a minimum 5% match from the tournament committee. Please when you receive your form in the mail fill them out and return to the Charity office at 15623 Coaltown Road, East Moline, IL. 61244.

Last year we received pledges in the amount of $1685 from a very generous list of donors. Let's see if we can double that amount this year and allow us to in turn donate that back to our charitable agencies and programs. Thank you in advance and may God bless you all.

SENTINELS FOR HOLY THURSDAY EXPOSITION OF THE BLESSED SACRAMENT

On Holy Thursday, April 14th, Allouez Council 658 will again be providing Sentinels to stand watch during the Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament following the Holy Thursday services at Sacred Heart and St Pius X, both in Rock Island. I believe this is an excellent opportunity for any and all Knights to participate in a very holy and reverent service to the Church and to our Lord Jesus Christ.

We are still in need of a number of volunteers to cover some of the hours from 9:00 PM until Midnight. In the past we have asked pairs of Knights to stand watch for one hour during the Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament. But if we could get enough volunteers, we could shorten the amount of time each pair of Knights would need to stand.

If you are interested in serving as a Sentinel this year, please let me know whether you would rather serve at Sacred Heart or St Pius, and which hour you would prefer. We still have time slots open for all remaining shifts. I have attached a document that briefly describes the process for being a Sentinel for Holy Thursday. Also, if someone would like to volunteer to help coordinate this activity at Sacred Heart, I would greatly appreciate it.

The procedure the Knights will use is as follows:
- Sentinels will stand watch beside the Altar of Exposition.

- If only one Sentinel is on watch, position yourself at one end of the Altar and face across the front of the Altar.
- If two Knights are on watch, face each other from each side of the Altar of Exposition.
- 4th Degree Honor Guard members should dress in full uniform, including swords
 - Stand at Parade Rest, with the sword remaining in the scabbard.
 - Keep your left hand on the scabbard and place your right hand behind back and stand with your feet 10 inches apart.
- All other Knights should wear a dark coat and tie.
 - Knights of Columbus Sashes will be provided to wear over your coat.
 - Place both hands behind you back and stand with your feet 10 inches apart.
- When switching Sentinels at the end of the shift, the relieving Sentinels should approach the Altar together, and ALL Sentinels should face the Altar and bow before exchanging positions. The retiring Sentinels should return to the staging area together before dismissing.
- If the Setup box is checked, please come early, or stay late to support setup or cleanup.

Call me at 309-737-8349 if you have questions or concerns. Thank you, Dick Hunt

PRO-LIFE MESSAGE

Some people ask: shouldn't we permit abortion only to save the life of the mother? Abortion is completely legal in more than one hundred nations. In almost every case, population controllers first drove in the ultra-thin wedge of allowing abortion when the mother's life is in danger. This was a brilliant, but evil, strategy for two reasons.

First, abortionists can easily stretch any law, no matter how strict or precisely written, into abortion on demand. Since they falsely consider abortion to be safer than childbirth, pro-abortionists can easily justify all abortions under the "life of the mother" exception. In fact, abortionists have claimed that all abortions are medically necessary. This is certainly not a new development. For example, in 1980 abortionist Lise Fortier asserted, "Each and every pregnancy threatens a woman's life. From a strict medical viewpoint, every pregnancy should be aborted." Even earlier, abortionist David Zbaraz claimed that all first-trimester and most second-trimester abortions are medically necessary since, as he alleged, they are safer than childbirth.

The second reason that the "life of the mother" exception is so pernicious is that it gets people in nations with pro-life laws accustomed to the concept of abortion so that it can be rapidly expanded in the future. After all, if we can legalize abortion when the mother's life is in danger, why not legalize it to preserve her physical and mental health as well — and then for social and economic reasons? Time and again, this has happened. Health exceptions are used as a tool to expand legal abortion access even when they were not intended to be, and doctors abuse such exceptions to allow them to perform abortions. The definition of what is and is not medically necessary becomes increasingly wide to accommodate more procedures and increase the number of abortions.

People habitually overestimate the number of abortions committed for the classic "hard cases" of rape and incest, eugenics and life and health of the mother, a common error that is not at all discouraged by pro-abortionists. Thirty years ago, Dr. Irving Cushner, Professor of Obstetrics at the UCLA School of Medicine, testified before the Senate Judiciary Committee. When one of the Senators asked him how often abortions are necessary, whether to save the life of the mother or to preserve her physical health, Dr. Cushner, who was strongly pro-abortion, answered, "In this country, about one percent."

This number has not changed. During the years 1996 to 2020, the states of Florida, Louisiana, Minnesota, Nebraska, South Dakota, and Utah compiled data on the reasons women obtain abortions. Of the 2.4 million aborting women surveyed, only 1.14% replied that they were having abortions to protect their lives or physical health. Modern medicine has virtually eliminated avoidable maternal deaths due to pregnancy, as many leading experts attested decades ago:

- Alan Guttmacher of Planned Parenthood did more to promote and spread abortion on demand throughout the world than any other individual. Nearly fifty years ago, he commented, "Today it is possible for almost any patient to be brought through pregnancy alive, unless she suffers from a fatal disease such as cancer or leukemia, and if so, abortion would be unlikely to prolong, much less save the life." Certainly, with all of the advances in medicine since then, cases in which a woman's pregnancy threatens her health are even rarer today.
- In 1990, reformed abortionist Bernard Nanthanson said, "The situation where the mother's life is at stake were she to continue a pregnancy is no longer a clinical reality. Given the state of modern medicine, we can now manage any pregnant woman with any medical affliction successfully, to the natural conclusion of the pregnancy: The birth of a healthy child."
- In 1974, the "Father of Fetology," Hymie Gordon, M.D., Director of Medical Genetics at the Mayo Clinic, stated, "In more than 25 years now of medical practice, I have come to learn that if a woman is healthy enough to become pregnant, she is healthy enough to complete the term — in spite of heart disease, liver disease, almost any disease. As far as I'm concerned, there are no medical indications for terminating a pregnancy." In 1981, Dr. Jasper Williams, Jr., of the Bernard Hospital in Chicago, Past President of the National Medical Association, said, "Since 1953, I have never seen a patient die because she needed an abortion and it could not be performed. Doctors now have the tools and the knowledge with which to work so that they can handle almost any disease a patient may have, whether that patient is pregnant or not, and without interrupting the pregnancy."

What if the Mother’s Life Really Is in Danger?

The number of medically necessary abortions is essentially zero. In those extremely rare cases when the mother’s life truly is threatened by pregnancy (such as with cancer of the uterus or ectopic pregnancy), she may undergo an operation whose purpose is to save her life, even if the preborn child may die as an indirect result of the procedure. This principle is known as the “double effect” Though it may at times be necessary to induce delivery early to save the mother’s life, it is not necessary to kill the child intentionally. Every effort should be made to preserve both lives. Killing the child should never be the goal, as it is in every abortion.

The Lie that Life equals Health. Many public opinion polls show that a large majority of people do not want to pay for abortions, so pro-abortionists grossly overestimate the alleged “dangers” of pregnancy and childbirth in order to frighten people into supporting public abortion funding. Perpetuating the lie, they define a threat to the life of the mother in the same terms as a threat to her health. This way, abortion when the mother’s life is in danger leads to abortion for any reason at all:

- Abortionist Michael Burnhill of the National Abortion Federation (NAF) said that a “life of the mother” exception would allow him to perform all abortions he considered “medically necessary,” all those that would preserve a “condition in which one can actively participate in one’s total life.”
- According to another author, “A Colorado abortion clinic director claimed that his extensive research showed that carrying a pregnancy to term is about 100 times more life threatening than having an abortion. He, therefore, considered any pregnancy life-threatening and used that as justification, certifying that the mother’s life was endangered.”

Abortionist Jane Hodgson testified under oath: “In my medical judgment, every pregnancy that is not wanted by the patient, I feel there is a medical indication to abort a pregnancy where it is not wanted. In good faith, I would recommend on a medical basis, you understand, that, and it would be 100.... I think they are all medically necessary.... I am considering the woman’s physical, mental, emotional and social and welfare and family and environment and all that.... I am concerned with the quality of life, not physical existence.”¹⁰ Hodgson also summarized the general pro-abortion attitude when she said, “A medically necessary abortion is any abortion a woman asks for.” In short, pro-abortion advocates can stretch exceptions allowing abortion when the mother’s life is in danger, making this exception cover abortion for any reason. Hodgson also summarized the general pro-abortion attitude when she said, “A medically necessary abortion is any abortion a woman asks for.”

In short, pro-abortion advocates can stretch exceptions allowing abortion when the mother’s life is in danger, making this exception cover abortion for any reason.

Due to the principle of the “double effect” surgical procedures that save the mother’s life while causing the undesired and unintended death of the preborn child are permissible, so it is actually unnecessary to allow an exception for abortion when the mother’s life is in danger.

Pro-lifers must vigorously oppose the “mother’s life” exception because of the inherent dishonesty of abortionists who expand it to mean abortion on demand. Additionally, if surgical procedures intended to save the life of the mother are labeled “abortions” in those many countries that still have pro-life laws, people will get used to the idea of killing preborn children much more easily, paving the way for a rapid expansion of exceptions and eventual abortion on demand.

Jack Swan, Pro-life Director
