H. REX SCRANTON OBITUARY
APRIL 12, 1933 - APRIL 16, 2022

Herbert "Rex" Scranton 89, went to his Lord and Savior on Saturday, April 16th, 2022 at his home in Coal Valley, Illinois, surrounded by his loving family after a brief battle with declining health.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held at 10 a.m. on Thursday, April 21 at St. Maria Goretti Catholic Church, Coal Valley with Fr. Anthony Ego presiding. On Wed., April 20 a prayer service took place at 4 p.m. followed by a visitation until 7 p.m. at Trimble Funeral Home in Coal Valley. Memorials may be made to the church.

Rex was born April 12, 1933, in Rock Island, Illinois, the only child of Herbert Rex Scranton Sr. and Bernice Elizabeth (Briggs) Scranton. Rex became an Eagle Scout in 1948. He was employed at Chicago Butcher's in Moline from 1950 to 1954. He graduated from Moline Public High School in 1951, where he participated in basketball, football and track. Later he graduated from the former Moline

Community College. He married the love of his life, Sharon Rose Valley on August 14, 1954, in Rock Island. He worked for John Deere in the engineering lab in Silvis, retiring after 34 years.

Rex loved deeply and enjoyed gatherings both large and small with extended family and friends. Annual special celebrations for holidays and birthdays brought him great joy. Rex was known to invite acquaintances that did not have local family to dinners at his home so they would not have to be alone. After work hours, summers were spent taking his family swimming, camping, to amusement parks and making frequent ice cream stops.

Rex always put God and his family first. Grace was said by the family at all dinners, private and public. He was a tireless volunteer. He fed homeless, ministered to prisoners, was an eucharistic minister, active in his church and helped anyone in need. He was on the parish commission for the Catholic Diocese of Peoria. He went on a mission trip to Mexico for a month with a church group to serve the poor. He volunteered at Oak Glen Home and then Hope Creek home for many years. Rex and Sharon were members of Cursillo and TEC. He was a volunteer reading assistant at Bicentennial Elementary School for several years. Rex volunteered to drive many people to medical appointments. Rex believed in civil and equal rights. He brought his children to Project Now fundraising and attended civil rights events. Rex assisted Earl Hickman in securing financing for the Hickman recreation center in Rock Island.

Rex was preceded in death by his parents and step father, sons-in-law, Howard Higbee and Gene Washburn, and brothers-in-law, Danny Valley and Bill Jennings.

He is survived by his wife of 67 years, Sharon; children, Steve (Pat) Scranton of Taylor Ridge, Debra Washburn of Moline, Sue (Joe) Hart of Rock Island, Sally (Brian) Smith of Hardy AR, Amy (Keith) Kappeler of Stockton IA, and Beth (Scott) Hoffman of Orion IL.; 18 Grandchildren; 31 Great Grandchildren (and 1 more on the way); and 1 Great-great Grandchild. Siblings in law Brian (Mary Ann) Valley of Orland Park, Nancy Jennings and Donna (Bob) McMurray of Ocala FL, Dave (Vicki) Valley of Indian Harbour Beach FL, Mike (Cindy) Valley of Palm Bay FL.

BLOOD DRIVE

The Spring Blood Drive on 4/18 at St. Pius X Parish had an amazing turnout of blood donors from the parish, Jordan school, and the Knights of Columbus! Amy Stahle, the Blood Center Coordinator said that in the past three years this was the most she has had on any blood drives, including high school blood drives. A total of 104 units of blood were collected!!! These units have the potential to help save up to 312 lives in our community hospitals. Again, as Amy says, "that is the most that we have collected at any of my blood drives at any schools, churches, or businesses" this year. Jordan school has earned $250 plus $104 ($1 per blood donation) or $354 in grant money for their participation with the parish and the Knights.

Besides a fantastic Blood Center Team, a THANK YOU to Brother Knights Rick Cervantes, Dave Sullivan, Jim Wieland and Dean Lackey assisting with set-up and tear-down duties thru the 7 hour period. A big THANK YOU to all parish, Jordan school, and my Bro. Knights, and their families for those 104 blood donations. I appreciate your continued support for the community. The next parish drive is on October 10th, Columbus Day. Please make a note that Louie will be calling soon this Fall!!!

Thanks to Msgr. Merdian for his support of the Drive and Fr. Nicolas Wilson for the blood donation.

Thank You All, Louie Alongi,
KofC Blood Drive Coordinator

DEACON'S QUESTION BOX

Why is St. John often referred to as the "one" that Jesus loved?

Question submitted: In the daily devotional I use the reading was John 20: 1-8. In verses 1-2 the disciple that Mary Magdalene ran to Simon Peter and "the one that Jesus Loved". This verse has always befuddled me thinking for sure Jesus loved all of his disciples, certainly all of his Apostles, and all people that followed Him, everyone in fact, for Jesus is God, and God is Love. Why is John so often referred to as the "one" that Jesus loved?

Interestingly enough, as I researched this question I found very little written on this topic. So I will put forward my thoughts. Please recognize I am not a trained Biblical theologian and these are indeed my thoughts after prayer and contemplation. We can infer a close relationship between Jesus, John, Peter, and John's brother James based on the number of significant incidents in the Gospels where the three of them are said to accompany Jesus. They were with Jesus at the Transfiguration and at the raising of Jairus' daughter and in the garden at Gethsemane. John alone of all the disciples was present at the foot of the Cross at the Crucifixion. John uses this phrase to refer to himself at least five times in the New Testament.

We might be tempted to label this as pride bordering on hubris. I do not believe this is appropriate. Saint John's writing uniquely focuses on the significance of love in understanding the Divinity of Jesus and His coming to us. It is more appropriate I believe to assume that Saint John is saying something significant about himself when he uses this phrase in a way similar to Saint Paul's description of himself in his 2nd letter to the Corinthians (5,14-15).

Viewed in this way John would be saying, "I identify myself as loved by Christ because this is the all-constraining, all-controlling reality in my life. This is why I am writing the Gospel. This is why I minister, this is why I live. Christ's love for me controls me."

Feel free to drop me a question for this column. Questions may be dropped off on the head table at a Council Meeting or sent via email to Deacon Russ Swim, Assistant Chaplain, rpswim@mchsi.com, phone 786-3097.

VOLUNTEER AT THE JOHN DEERE CLASSIC

Once again, we have an awesome opportunity for QC Knights family to serve as Marshal for the 17th hole on Thursday, June 30 and Friday, July 1 for the upcoming John Deere Classic.

What a great way for us to get together and support this awesome charity fundraising event!

Please join us as a volunteer at the John Deere Classic. Now with the tournament moved one week earlier, the potential for more top ranked golfers is there.

On April 13 the John Deere Classic volunteer website opened for registration. Here are the details:

John Deere Classic 17th Hole Marshals:

We have decided to take the leadership to recruit JDC volunteers to support Hole #17.

We need 20 volunteers each shift to marshal Hole #17 on Thursday & Friday, June 30 & July 12, 2022. Shifts include, approximate times:

- Thur, June 30:

PRO-LIFE MESSAGE

Does Abortion Reduce Welfare Costs? Supporters of abortion tend to lack foresight and misunderstand human nature. These defects inevitably lead to many cases of the “law of unintended consequences.”

One example of this lack of foresight is the claim that when the government pays for a poor woman’s abortion, it saves money by avoiding delivery and welfare costs. In fact, this is one of the most common arguments offered by pro-abortionists in support of Medicaid funding of abortion.

Essentially, the argument goes like this: it saves the country (and taxpayers) money, in the long run, to pay for an abortion instead of having to pay for the child to be on welfare after birth.

In support of this belief, pro-abortionists grossly exaggerate the costs incurred by a child on welfare. They began using this tactic in their battle against the Hyde Amendment, which bans most federal funding of abortion. Some senators testified, “If we can avoid a $100,000 cost for a $200 [abortion] investment — and make a humanitarian investment at the same time — what sense does it make to say, ‘We cannot afford $200 for this expenditure [an abortion]?’

This utilitarian thinking has continued for decades, with Baltimore Planned Parenthood CEO John Nugent saying in 2010: “A first trimester abortion is $300 to $450. But if the gestational age is higher you’re paying for a surgical suite. That’s why the insurance companies think they should be offering it [abortion]. It’s cheaper to terminate an unwanted pregnancy rather than taking it to term”. In this manner, pro-abortionists argue that abortion is a smart financial investment for taxpayers.

Actually, research demonstrates that killing people makes society poorer, not richer: Obviously, an abortion does indeed cost much less than delivery and care for a baby, but the pro-abortion view is extremely short-sighted and completely neglects the future benefits to society provided by a child over his or her lifetime. Here are numbers to prove it:

- To begin with, pro-abortionists tend to assume that welfare children will be “on the dole” until they are eighteen. However, less than 5% of all children born into welfare families will remain on welfare until they are adults. Additionally, the average period of welfare dependency for a child is just two years.
- A first-trimester Medicaid abortion currently costs about $515. By comparison, the cost of all kinds of public assistance for a child, including prenatal care, delivery, and postnatal care, and two years of all types of public assistance for the child is about $23,936. So, at first glance, abortion seems to be a very good financial deal indeed for the long-suffering taxpayer. But hold it — not so fast!
- What about the future benefits that a child generates during his or her lifetime?
- The federal, state, and local taxes paid by a child over their lifetime amount to about $1,135,271.
- Pro-abortionists consider only the short-term benefits to the government, which is the difference between the cost of caring for a child and the cost of an abortion, or $22,300 – $515 = $21,785. But the long-term benefit to the government of paying for the child’s delivery and care is ($1,135,271 –

$22,300), or $1,112,971. In other words, the government pays an average of $22,300 and gets $1,112,971 back.

- This means that there is a benefit-cost ratio of $50.90 received for every $1 the government spends when a child is saved and cared for. That is a very good deal indeed.

But this is not the only part of the equation. We must also consider that each person continuously generates wealth during his working career and consumes goods and services that help support the livelihoods of many other people. Through this, tax revenue is also generated through corporate taxes, sales tax, and more.

- Based on per capita GDP and average life expectancy, each person generates an average of about $5,007,234 in economic activity over his or her lifetime.
- By subtracting the earlier calculated cost of paying for a child’s delivery and care from this number, we see that each person aborted results in a total loss of around $4,983,298.

For every abortion, society loses out on nearly five million dollars in total economic activity. For every dollar spent on abortion, society loses around $50.90 in tax revenue and more than $9800 in economic activity.

Knowing this, one can wonder if those who claim that abortion saves money might have another motive. In fact, there may well be. Time and again leaders of the pro-abortion movement reveal naked racism behind this argument. Take Norplant, a contraceptive implant that would later be banned by the FDA due to the massive harm it caused women.

Donald Kimelman of the Philadelphia Inquirer revealed the true goal of our domestic population controllers in a 1990 article. He writes: As we read these stories [about Norplant and black poverty], we asked ourselves: Dare we mention them in the same breath? To do so might be considered deplorably insensitive, perhaps raising the specter of eugenics. But it would be worse to avoid drawing the logical conclusion that foolproof contraception could be invaluable in breaking the cycle of inner-city poverty — one of America’s greatest challenges.

Kimelman went on to suggest that welfare mothers could be implanted with Norplant for free and perhaps receive increased welfare benefits as a reward. It seems reasonable to ask why, if Kimelman was truly concerned about poverty in general, did he not also recommend the use of Norplant for poor white women? Others asked the same question. Vanessa Williams, president of the Philadelphia chapter of the National Association of Black Journalists, called Kimelman’s article “A tacit endorsement of slow genocide.” Four days after Kimelman’s article, Inquirer columnist Steve Lopez sarcastically suggested that contraception would not reduce the underclass quite as fast as “just shooting them.”

The Inquirer quickly apologized for Kimelman’s article after a wave of complaints. But the racist and eugenicist thinking of many of those who want to “help” poor women had been exposed once again. Is it any wonder why Planned Parenthood operates abortion clinics near poor and black communities?

Taxpayer-funded abortions are not fiscally responsible, and the motivations behind economic arguments for it are often racially motivated. Abortion does not save money, not for the government, nor for society as a whole.
